

Position: Camp UniStar Assistant Food Service Director (A-FSD)

Reports to: Camp Director

Summary:

The remoteness of the camp provides a wonderful getaway from the hustle and bustle of everyday life and an exciting challenge for kitchen staff looking to create three delicious, large-scale meals a day. The kitchen has often been described as the heart of camp, and the Assistant Food Service Director helps make sure that supplies are on hand, staff are happy and safe, and even prepares several delicious meals themselves. One could argue that an organized, compassionate Assistant Food Service Director with good leadership skills could be described as the heartbeat of camp...

Purpose:

The purpose of the Assistant Food Service Director (A-FSD) is to assist the Food Service Director (FSD) in managing the operations of the food service facility and coordinating staff and volunteers in the kitchen. The primary focus of this position is on tracking kitchen inventory, placing orders to fill kitchen supplies and food needs, working with kitchen volunteers, and managing kitchen upkeep schedules. The A-FSD also collaborates with others to plan, prepare, and serve high quality meals. The A-FSD supports the FSD in fostering a welcoming work environment in which established policies, procedures, and best practices are followed. The Assistant FSD reports to the Camp Director while the FSD directly supervises the Assistant FSD and Lead Cook and helps support them as necessary to fulfill their roles.

Responsibilities and Duties:

The A-FSD is responsible for providing reliable, skilled, and knowledgeable help to the FSD in all areas relating to the kitchen. Approximately 75% of the A-FSD's time will be spent working on shifts related to the primary responsibilities listed below. Additional duties and responsibilities not outlined in the primary list may be required as deemed necessary by the Camp Director and are listed in the appropriate section below.

Primary Responsibilities:

1. Kitchen Inventory Tracking
