

Position: Director

Reports to: Management Committee

Summary:

What makes a truly great camp director? Is it the way they seem to solve the toughest problems without even ruffling their trusty flannel? Or maybe the way they can motivate a staff of future leaders to clean the grimeiest of grease traps. You could try walking around with a clipboard and a “to do” list but that’s just not going to cut it. A camp director has a certain essence; they are motors down, lending an ear, planning for a power outage, inspiring future staff, giving feedback, camp-is-for-everyone kind of people. What could you bring to the role?

Purpose:

To manage Camp UniStar’s programs, human resources, buildings and grounds, finances, and relationships guided by UU principles as well as camp’s mission, vision, and values.

Responsibilities and Duties:

The Camp Director is responsible for the overall operation of Camp UniStar from Memorial Day through Labor Day, with the goal of ensuring a safe and environmentally sustainable camp environment, a positive experience for all campers, and healthy supportive relationships among staff. The Director is accountable to the Management Committee.

The Camp Director shall:

1. Camp Management

c. Ongoing Training

- i. Respond in real time to any additional staff training needs that arise throughout the summer

4. Staff Evaluation

- a. Document at least one formal mid-season performance interview with each individual staff member
- b. Advise the personnel committee on overall performance of individual staff members at season's end

5. Camp Finances

- a. Be responsible for making summer-time purchases. The Director will be held accountable for adhering to the budget approved by CUF. Any deviation greater than 5% from the approved budget must first receive authorization from Camp UniStar Management Committee. Any single expenditure greater than $1,000.00 shall first receive authorization from Camp UniStar Management Committee
- b. Be responsible for accounting for income and expenses in the manner instructed by the Finance Committee

6. Registration

- a. Make sure all campers, volunteers and guests are registered in CampBrain system and payments are allocated
- b. Respond to phone calls, emails, and letters from campers
- c. Run reports needed for camp functioning
- d. Review housing for campers before each week, making sure to check housing notes in CampBrain and on registration forms

7. Program

- a. Offer support to program leaders to ensure they have the tools necessary to conduct an effective program, including pre-arrival communications with the program leaders to facilitate preparedness
- b. Oversee youth and children's programming, as well as any other programming undertaken by staff

8. Leadership Development

- a. Nurture the aspirations of young campers and volunteers interested in becoming staff
- b. Promote leadership opportunities available to interested and talented campers in the camper community (i.e. CUF board and various committee and subcommittee roles, youth week counselors; program leaders)

9. Communication with Management Committee

- a. Work hand-in-hand with the MC and CUF board in achieving strategic objectives and general camp priorities
- b. Make periodic reports during the summer camp season to personnel subcommittee
- c. Attend Memorial Day weekend and Labor Day weekend MC meetings in person or virtually as appropriate
- d. Reach out to appropriate MC subcommittee members with questions;
- e. Be the primary contact for camp vendors, regulators, and inspectors during the summer season
 - i. Report the outcome of any regulator/inspector visits to the MC

10. Other
